

2016 FED 100

SHARE...E-MAIL THIS PAGEPRINTABLE FORMAT

Federal 100: Ben Sweezy

By FCW Staff | Mar 28, 2016

Name: Ben Sweezy

Title: Strategy and Data Lead

Agency: Office of Management and Budget

The FITARA taskmaster. When Federal CIO Tony Scott tapped Sweezy to figure out how OMB should implement the Federal IT Acquisition Reform Act, Sweezy designed and led an outreach program that gathered input from hundreds of IT professionals across the government. He also established a FITARA Executive Working Group and worked closely with the participants to identify the primary opportunities and obstacles, challenging them to creatively determine how best to meet the spirit and letter of the law. Along the way, he developed what became OMB Memorandum M-15-14, which outlines how agencies can comply with FITARA's requirements.

Click here for the full list

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Connect with the FCW staff on Twitter @FCWnow.

FEATURED

COMMENT

How VA is disrupting tech delivery

A former Digital Service specialist at the Department of Veterans Affairs explains efforts to transition government from a legacy "project" approach to a more user-centered "product" method.

CLOUD

DHS cloud push comes with complications

A pressing data center closure schedule and an ensuing scramble to move applications means that some Homeland Security components might need more than one hop to get to the cloud.

SEARCH

STAY CONNECTED

FCW INSIDER

Sign up for our newsletter.

Email Address

I agree to this site's Privacy Policy.

NEW FROM FCW

DHS FISMA ratings go up

Rethinking acquisition with the end user in mind

For latest election security moves, the devil is in the details

GSA looks to refine software-defined networking in EIS

Big IT acquisition reforms on hold as NDAA heads to conference

MOST POPULAR ARTICLES

Air Force unveils 10-year cyber warfare plan

Big IT acquisition reforms on hold as NDAA heads to conference

For latest election security moves, the devil is in the details

GSA looks to refine software-defined networking in EIS

FCW Insider: Sept. 24